What if my name has changed since I originally created my CITI account?
If you go by your middle name, your last name has changed, or you have otherwise changed your name since registering with CITI, please ensure that the original name is included in the submission so that the account may be located by IRB administration.

Example: Jane Doe has changed her last name to Smith after completing CITI training. She is being added to a new study.

Name to be included in personnel addition submission: “Jane Smith (Doe)” or “Jane Smith (Formerly Jane Doe)”

Is it possible to be exempt from CITI training requirements?

Only current members of the IRB Board(s) are exempt from CITI training requirements at UMMC. All others must maintain CITI training in good standing in order to conduct research.

Where do I enter CITI Training information

All personnel should be listed on the IRB personnel roster template that is attached to your redcap submission. Please list CITI expiration dates on this template.
