This manual outlines the requirements for manuscript style theses and dissertations published through the John D. Bower School of Population Health (SOPH) at the University of Mississippi Medical Center.

OVERVIEW

The Master of Science (MS) in Population Health Science, Doctor of Philosophy (PhD) in Biostatistics and Data Science, and PhD in Population Health Science are research degrees and are not conferred solely as a result of formal course work, no matter how superior and extensive. To receive these degrees, candidates must demonstrate evidence of proficiency and distinctive attainment in a special field and a recognized ability for independent investigation. The purpose of this requirement is multifold. Most importantly, the student must demonstrate the ability to collect, interpret, integrate, and communicate research findings. The thesis/dissertation is a permanent repository for research results and intellectual concepts that may not be published elsewhere. Finally, the thesis/dissertation should stand as a solid description of an independent research study that enlarges the body of knowledge in that field. Preparation of the thesis/dissertation is expected to be a scholarly endeavor in its own right.

While in the master’s thesis, the student demonstrates the ability to accomplish a research project of a more limited scope than that of the doctoral dissertation, the master’s thesis/doctoral dissertation are written records of student’s individual, original research. The topic must be appropriate to and significant in the academic field, require a mastery and exhaustive exercise of research techniques, and demonstrate critical thought and facility of expression. The thesis/dissertation must, in the professional opinion of the graduate faculty, make an original contribution, and it must demonstrate the candidate’s fitness to continue the advancement of knowledge in the student’s competency. In consultation with the student’s advisor, it is the responsibility of the student to satisfy all deadlines and requirements of the completion of a graduate degree, including the thesis/dissertation.

The student is responsible for all aspects of the preparation of the thesis/dissertation, including:

1. subject matter and content
2. organization and format
3. editorial, linguistic and bibliographical quality and accuracy
4. quality of text and illustrations
5. IRB/IACUC guidelines and requirements

The Thesis/Dissertation Advisory Committee is responsible for evaluating the research and the thesis/dissertation to ensure that:

1. the subject matter and methodology are appropriate.
2. the organization, content, and format of the thesis/dissertation are of professional quality which includes writing quality, technical correctness, and professional competency.
3. the student has fulfilled the requirements of the degree for which they are a candidate.

For a master’s student completing a thesis, the student should submit a complete Masters Advisory Committee Nomination Form to the Office of the Dean for the Dean’s written approval. The proposed thesis topic must be approved. A student must submit the Thesis Proposal Approval Form to the Office of the Dean.

For a doctoral student, a qualifying examination to qualify the student for admission to candidacy for the PhD degree is administered by each program within the SOPH. The qualifying examination is given to graduate students in good academic standing upon completion of coursework. The composition of the examination varies from program to program. Information on the specific format used within a program may be obtained from the relevant program director. Following the completion of the qualifying exam with a passing score, the student is required to submit Doctoral Qualifying Examination Certification Form must be submitted to the Office of the Dean. Ten (10) working days after satisfactory completion of the qualifying examination and any additional prerequisites, the student must submit the Admission into Doctoral Candidacy Form to the Office of the Dean. For a doctoral student completing a dissertation, the student should submit a complete Doctoral Advisory Committee Nomination Form to the Office of the Dean for the Dean’s written approval. The Dissertation Proposal Approval Form should be submitted to the Office of the Dean for approval.

The student must prepare the thesis/dissertation in an approved format.

A public oral defense of the thesis/dissertation is mandatory. The public oral defense must be publicly announced at least ten (10) working days before the student’s public defense date.

Ten (10) working days before the defense date, the student or a representative of the student’s program should send a notice of the defense to the Designated Official in the SOPH Office of the Dean. The defense date, time, place, student’s professional photo, and title of the Thesis/Dissertation should be included in the notification. The Designated Official will submit the defense notification on the UMMC scroll. The following statement will always be included on the UMMC intranet under the featured events section unless otherwise instructed not to include due to the size of the room, etc.: All UMMC faculty, staff, and students are invited.

A minimum of ten (10) working days before the defense date (some programs may require more time), the student must submit a first draft copy of the Thesis/Dissertation to ProQuest in PDF format and all members of the Thesis/Dissertation Advisory Committee. All submissions of edited versions of the manuscript must be submitted through ProQuest.

All advisory committee members as approved on the Masters Advisory Committee Nomination Form/Doctoral Advisory Committee Nomination Form must be present at the public oral defense.

In private deliberation, the advisory committee determines the acceptability of the oral defense and thesis/dissertation. Further questioning of the student may be included in the committee’s deliberations. Upon successful completion of the oral defense, the advisory committee must complete the Thesis Defense Certification Form or Dissertation Defense Certification Form, as appropriate.

Following a successful thesis/dissertation defense, the student completes any editing mandates or suggestions made by their advisory committee. The student also addresses formatting changes suggested by the Designated Official in the SOPH Office of the Dean.

The student submits a final draft of the thesis/dissertation to ProQuest no later than ten (10) working days after the Thesis/Dissertation defense. Payment of the copyright, binding and handling fees, and other fees must be completed in ProQuest.

After the Thesis/Dissertation has been cleared for binding by the Designated Official in the SOPH Office of the Dean, the student is required to purchase a minimum of three (3) copies. These copies will be distributed to the following:

- UMMC’s Rowland Medical Library
- Thesis/Dissertation Advisory Committee Chairperson
- Author (i.e., the student)

The student may pay for additional copies of the Thesis/Dissertation in ProQuest. Once the bound copies are returned, the SOPH Office of the Dean will deliver the three (3) copies to the recipients listed above. The SOPH Office of the Dean may notify the student to pick up the remaining copies, if applicable, and if the student has already moved from or is not based in the Jackson area, the SOPH Office of the Dean will mail the remaining copies to the student at the student’s expense.
FORMATTING INSTRUCTIONS

The formatting requirements detailed in this manual must be met throughout the entire manuscript. The candidate is responsible for the correct presentation of the content, reference and illustrative materials of the manuscript, arrangements of parts, sentence structure, grammar, paragraphing, punctuation, spelling, typographical errors, quotations, bibliographical items and of tables and other illustrative materials. The manuscript should be carefully proofread and corrected by the candidate prior to submission to ProQuest.

| Spacing           | All text must appear in a single column on each page with one and a half spacing (1.5). This includes the Abstract, Dedication, Acknowledgments, Table of Contents, and body of the manuscript (i.e., the Chapter or Major Sections).
|                   | Single spacing (1.0) may be used for long tables, block quotations, subheadings and chapter titles, figure legends, appendix material, and all bibliographic entries.
|                   | For long quotations of more than fifty words, the writing should be indented 0.75” from the left-hand margin and single-spaced.
|                   | New paragraphs must be indicated by a consistent tab indentation throughout the entire document.
|                   | It is not permissible to leave a single line of a paragraph or other subdivision at either the bottom or top of a page (a "widow" or “orphan”).
|                   | The last word on a page should not be hyphenated.
|                   | Text within a chapter must be consistent. You may add extra space following a section or subsection title, but add no more than one extra line of space between paragraphs.  |
|                   | LOWERCASE ROMAN NUMERALS (iii, iv, v, vi, etc.) must be used to number the Preliminary Section Pages (e.g., List of Tables, List of Figures, etc.).
|                   | ARABIC NUMBERS (1, 2, 3, 4, 5, etc.) must be used to number the body of the text. The first page of the Major Section Pages (e.g., “INTRODUCTION”, etc.) must be numbered “1.” The remaining pages will be numbered sequentially using Arabic numbers.  |

Do not divide words at the bottom of a page and carry them over to the next page. A sentence ending a paragraph should not end as a partial line at the top of the next page.

The first body of text page of each chapter should have a 2” top margin. All other text pages, including those with figures or legends, should have a 1” top margin. |
| Tables and Figures | The Advisory Committee must approve the quality of all tables and figures.

Tables and Figures must bear an identifying number, and numbered in a separate series; each table and figure must bear a number in its own series (e.g., “Table 1...”, “Figure 1...”, “Table 2...”, “Table 3...”, “Figure 2...”). Table and Figure titles should be unique and be entered in the List of Tables and List of Figures exactly as they appear in the manuscript. Title text should be single-spaced and bold.

Tables and Figures must have captions. A caption is additional text that describes the information in the table and figure. Caption text should be single-spaced.

Placement of Tables and Figures may be handled one of the following ways:
- Each table and figure must be referenced in the text prior to its placement.
- Inserted in the text following the first mention of the Table or Figure in the text (as near as logically possible without creating space gaps in the text), or
- Tables and Figures may be grouped at the end of each section where the table or figure is first mentioned.

Tables
The term table is used to designate tabulated data including computer printout sheets. The table number and title should be placed at the top of each table. Any additional caption and legend information is entered at the bottom of the table.

Figures
The term figure is used to designate photographs, half-tone prints, charts, maps, graphs, plates, drawings, diagrams, images, and other mainly nonverbal material. Images should be scanned and printed at high resolution (at least = 300 dpi).
The Manuscript Style format of a dissertation is available to doctoral students, whose final, completed dissertation will consist of two or more manuscripts, papers, or articles. This should include articles already published or submitted for publication to peer-reviewed journals but should contain at least one (1) accepted manuscript relevant to the dissertation research. If not, approval must be obtained by the Dean of the SOPH.

DIVISIONS OF THE DISSERTATION
The elements of a thesis or dissertation may contain some, or all, of the elements listed below. Those elements that are in your document must appear in the order listed and must be formatted as described.

Please consult the sample pages below to compare your document to the division and page requirements.
The Thesis/Dissertation title should be as brief and concise as possible and should be used consistently. Word substitutes should be used for Greek letters (e.g. Beta for \(\beta\)) and symbols that appear in the title (e.g., Partial Differential for \(\partial\)). All abbreviated terms should be spelled out.

No other titles (e.g., B.S., M.D., MBA, etc.) previously earned should be mentioned on this page. The name on the Title Page must match exactly the name under which the student is registered at UMMC.

The requirements statement is centered 1” below the student name:

“A dissertation/thesis submitted to the John D. Bower School of Population Health of the University of Mississippi Medical Center in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy/Master of Science in Program”

Only the official designation of the degree (i.e. Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Science) must be used on the title page.

The location statement is centered 2” below the requirements statement:

University of Mississippi Medical Center
Jackson, MS
Month of Defense, Year of Defense

The Title Page is not numbered, but is considered page “i”.
The student must include a Signature Page with original signatures from the Advisory Committee Chair, Committee Members, and Dean.

A Signature Page template is available for download on the SOPH Dissertation and Thesis Webpage.

Refer to the Masters Advisory Committee Nomination Form or Doctoral Advisory Committee Nomination Form for details on committee membership.

The Signature Page is numbered “ii”. (Note: this is the first page of the manuscript in which a page number is displayed on the printed document.)
Every Thesis and Dissertation must include an Abstract. The abstract’s purpose is to present the most important findings and methods of the research, thus providing a basis for readers to determine their interest in reading the full text.

The Thesis/Dissertation Title must be centered, ALL CAPS, and located 1” from the top of the page.

Skip one single-spaced line and continue the header, centered: Student’s Full Name, Credentials; “John D. Bower School of Population Health”; “University of Mississippi Medical Center”; Month of Defense, Year of Defense.

Skip one single-spaced line and begin the Abstract text. Text should be justified and single-spaced.

Abstracts usually consist of the following: statement of the problem, procedures or methods, results, and conclusions. The abstract may not contain graphs, tables or illustrations.

The Abstract Page is numbered “iii”.

Continue numbering the pages consecutively throughout the remainder of the document.
The title “DEDICATION” should be bold, ALL CAPS, and centered at 1” from the top of the page, with a single-spaced line between the title and the text.

A dedication is a message from the author prefixed in a work in tribute to a person, group, or cause. If included, the Dedication Page is before the Acknowledgements and Table of Contents Pages.

If included, the Dedication Page would be numbered “iv”.

DEDICATION

Acknowledgements Page
Optional

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I want to first thank my mentor, Dr. Jerry McGuire. Dr. McGuire has been instrumental in my success as a researcher and biostatistician. This dissertation project would have been accomplished without their unwavering support and encouragement. My primary advisor, Dr. Doo Little, has continuously poured out time and energy to my studies. My professional and personal successes are owed to them. To the members of my Advisory Committee, “Thank you.”

The title “ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS” should be bold, ALL CAPS, and centered at 1” from the top of the page, with a single-spaced line between the title and the text.

The Acknowledgments Page, if included, are the author’s statement of gratitude to and recognition of the people and institutions/groups that helped the author’s research and writing. Acknowledgements must be written in complete sentences, and avoid direct and informal address (e.g., Thanks Doc!).

If included, the Acknowledgements Page would be numbered “v”.

Manuscript Style, p. 12
The title “TABLE OF CONTENTS” should be bold, ALL CAPS, and centered at 1” from the top of the page, with a double-spaced line between the title and text.

A page number must be listed for each item, and must match the exact page number in which the item first appears in the printed manuscript. The Preliminary Section pages (e.g., pages with lowercase Roman numerals) whose page numbers are printed are included, but the Table of Contents itself is not listed.

Pages are numbered sequentially (e.g., If Dedication and Acknowledgements Pages are included the Table of Contents Page would be numbered “vi”. If only the Dedication Page is included, the Table of Contents Page would be numbered “v”).

The Major Section pages follow and begin with the Arabic numerals “1” (e.g., CHAPTER 1 section begins on page “1”).

At a minimum, the Table of Contents must include all Preliminary Section and Major Section pages:

- Signature Page
- Abstract
- List of Tables*
- List of Figures*
- List of Abbreviations*
- Chapter 1
- Introduction and Review of the Literature
- Summary and Discussion
- Appendix

*These pages are required, if entries are used.

Manuscript Style, p. 16
Start a new chapter, or Major Section, on a fresh page. This section of the manuscript should include:

- Chapter 1: Introduction and Review of Literature, Literature Cited, Tables, Figure Legends, Figures
- Subsequent Chapters with Title Pages, Statements of Permission and Contributions, Abstracts, Introductions, etc.
- Summary and Discussion
- Appendix

“CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION AND REVIEW OF LITERATURE” should describe overall hypotheses or questions, studies and sub-hypotheses or questions, and their significance. It must contain an extensive review of the relevant background literature to describe the broader context, and introduce main concepts, hypotheses, or research questions. In the overall SUMMARY AND DISCUSSION section, describe how the studies fit together and test the overall hypothesis or question. Future directions and unanswered questions should be identified.

A numbered half Title page must be used preceding the text of each Chapter/Major Section, in ALL CAPS and centered vertically and horizontally. The Major Section title (e.g., “INTRODUCTION”, “LITERATURE CITED”, “SUMMARY AND DISCUSSION”, etc.) should be bold, ALL CAPS, and centered at 2” from the top of the page, with a double-spaced line between the title and text.

Additional Headings and subheadings must be formatted identically in font size, typeface, placement, and style of capitalization. The font size for main headings and subheadings may be larger than that used in the text, and boldfaced type may be used. However, its use must be consistent throughout the document. Refer to APA heading levels formatting.

From “CHAPTER 1: INTRODUCTION AND REVIEW OF LITERATURE” to the end of the document, all pages are numbered with Arabic numerals centered at the bottom of the page. Begin with page number “1” and continue numbering the pages consecutively throughout the remainder of the document.
The title “LITERATURE CITED” or “BIBLIOGRAPHY” should be bold, ALL CAPS, and centered at 1” from the top of the page, with a double-spaced line between the title and text. (Note: this section can be labeled as “Literature Cited” or “Bibliography”. Do not use “References”.)

This section is a vital part of every Chapter.

Every reference source should be properly documented. Each reference should include the complete title of the reference and all the data necessary to locate the reference in a library system.

The preferred format for listing references is alphabetical order by the first author’s last name.

In the text, the format of citations must be consistent and uniform and adhere to the “name, year” system.

Single-space each entry, double-space between entries.

Other formatting styles may be used, if approved by the Advisory Committee.

Do NOT allow a reference to break across a page.

Continue numbering the pages consecutively throughout the remainder of the document.
Appendix

Required

A numbered half Title page must be used preceding the Appendix documents with “APPENDIX” in ALL CAPS and centered vertically and horizontally.

The Appendix must include (1) a Statement of Permission, stating that all permissions for the use of any copyrighted materials have been received, and if applicable (2) a Statement of Contributions, stating any contributions made by authors or coauthors. Templates for these forms are available on the SOPH website. If the thesis or dissertation contains previously published material, letters of permission to reprint copyrighted material must appear here. It is the student’s responsibility to procure reprint permission from journals.

The Appendix may include all materials that are not critical for inclusion in the body of the main text. If used, Appendix must appear in the Table of Contents.

The appendix may contain surveys, questionnaires, extra relevant material such as tables, figures, computer data, etc.

Any and all material in appendices must be numbered consecutively within the document, with proper margins observed, consistent with the remainder of the document.

Continue numbering the pages consecutively throughout the remainder of the document.
The Copyright Page is inserted by ProQuest and will be added to the back of the publication.

Students do not need to add this page when submitting the document for publication.

DISTRIBUTION

Internet Distribution

ProQuest provides authors with options to make dissertations and theses available via search engines. For example, if the student wishes to have their work be available to the largest potential amount of interested readers, choose “Publishing with Immediate Release” and not restrict access from Google and other search engines.

Do not choose this option if considerations such as those described in the “Embargoes” section apply to your work.

Search engines are likely to find the student’s work through other access points, especially through the UMMC’s Rowland Medical Library repository.

Open Access

Open Access publishing is a shift in publication, especially of scholarly works, to make information widely available to researchers and the public at no cost. This practice is in contrast to traditional publishing, where the public must pay to access scholarly publications.

The Open Access publishing option in ProQuest is an additional cost, and due when the student submits the first draft of the manuscript before the oral defense date. Traditional publishing option is free.

Students interested in Open Access versus Traditional publishing, should contact the SOPH Office of the Dean.

Embargoes

An embargo is a delayed release voluntarily placed by the student on their thesis or dissertation. There are three embargo lengths available to student in ProQuest: 6 months, 1 year, and 2 years.

An embargo may be considered if a student’s manuscript includes:

- Patentable rights in the work or other issues in which disclosure might be detrimental to the rights and/or interests of the author;
- An ethical need to prevent disclosure of sensitive or classified information about persons, institutions, technologies, etc., are apparent;
- The interest of a publishing house in acquiring the rights to the manuscript as a book; or
- Content that is likely to be submitted to a peer-reviewed journal.

Please contact the SOPH Office of the Dean for more guidance on embargoes.

COPYRIGHTING

Registering Copyright

When submitting the first draft of the manuscript in ProQuest, registering for a copyright is required. ProQuest will file the copyright on the author’s behalf with the United States Copyright Office at the Library of Congress. All students must registered for a copyright in for the manuscript to be a valid submission to ProQuest and the SOPH. Note: Certain parts of the manuscript may have been published in journals or magnets, while the manuscript is a unique work in and of itself. Therefore, the manuscript needs a copyright, as it is a standalone document.

The Copyright fee is due when the student submits the first draft to ProQuest before the oral defense date.

Using Copyrighted Materials
Any copyrighted materials in the manuscript must be used only with the written permission of the copyright owner. See the Appendix Page and supplemental forms above.

Journal publishers typically hold the copyright for all materials they publish. Even if the student or student and others are the sole authors of material in a published journal, the student must obtain written permission from the copyright holder to permissibly include the material in the thesis or dissertation document.

Use of Student’s Own Previously Published Materials
If including articles or other materials previously published, or articles accepted, submitted, or under review, the following guidelines apply:

— If the material is co-authored, the student’s academic program must approve its inclusion.
— If the material is copyrighted, the student must fulfill the copyright conditions specified above.
— The material, if included in the body of the text, must conform to all formatting guidelines as outlined in this document.

SUBMISSION
ProQuest is the repository for all thesis and dissertation submissions.

To expedite the submission process, ensure that the first draft of the manuscript document conforms to specified SOPH Dissertation and Thesis Guidelines before submitting the document to ProQuest.

The time between initial (i.e., first draft) submission and the final approval by the SOPH may vary due to factors such as proximity to deadlines, projected graduation, volume of revisions necessary, Advisory Committee recommendations, etc. Students are expected to submit required revisions in a timely manner.

When the first draft is submitted, students are required to pay the copyright fee and fees for the binding and printing of the four (4) required copies for SOPH distribution. This does not include any additional services or copies that are optional for the student. Additional copies of the thesis or dissertation may be ordered at any time during or after the submission process.
