Resident Fatigue

The University of Mississippi Medical Center and University of Mississippi Health Care is committed to the management of potential negative effects of fatigue on patient care and learning. Adequate sleep facilities are available to residents. In addition, safe transportation options for residents who may be too fatigued to safely return home will be provided as follows in the order indicated:

1. Residency program (call education administrator – 601-984-1879)
2. Graduate Medical Education (601-984-1113)
3. UMMC security (601-984-1360)
