

Research Summary

Projects in my laboratory focus on the molecular components required for transduction of mechanical signaling in VSMCs and trophoblasts and the importance of mechanical signaling in vascular function under normal and cardiovascular disease including, preeclampsia and hypertension.